5. When they have completed this, they are invited to complete their own wild card and asked to give this to the presenter at the end of the session.
6. Each team reads out their cards placed in the red section.
7. The presenter then reads out every card and responds to each myth.
8. At the end of the session, students can privately speak with the presenter and discuss their own concerns that may not have been covered or discuss a general enquiry.
